

Harris Companies chosen as 2008 CenterPoint Energy Trade Ally of the Year!

The 2008 CenterPoint Energy Trade Ally of the Year award was presented to Harris Companies at the 2009 Technology Conference on May 14th at the Minneapolis Marriott Southwest in Minnetonka. Jason Pung and Tom Marthaler from CenterPoint nominated Harris Companies to receive the award.

The following is a short summary of why Harris was chosen.

- Harris Service group is an active customer advocate for energy efficiency evaluations and improvements in commercial and industrial applications. The Harris Service group regularly incorporates our Engineering Assistance program as a financial support tool, encouraging customers to dig deep into their systems and application to identify energy saving opportunities.
- Harris Mechanical consistently uses the rebate program to motivate customers to install the higher efficiency option. They also assist customers to ensure they have all of the necessary information for them for efficient rebate processing.

Harris Companies was honored to receive the award and looks forward to continued collaboration with CenterPoint Energy!
